

auki hee welling

Born from the combination of geometric shapes that create new surfaces, Auki completes the offer of Lapalma lounge. As in original, the Danish designer, starting from a flat surface and lifting the corners, went to form a sort of welcoming bowl which, connected to the center line, defined to fit the human body, has created an armchair which it is characterized by very simple look and high functionality. The slight curvature in the edge gives this session a discreet elegance, emphasizing the formal simplicity. Optional headrest available.
