

jimmy atelier biagetti

Ideally modular ad infinitum, Jimmy is a lively unconventional and totally customizable seating system. The two versions in which it was conceived – concave and convex – are an invitation to play with its shapes and their orientation, with which even a gigantic circular shape can be created: it is this attitude that makes it the ideal protagonist of spaces with diverse need, be they domestic – living rooms, studios – or contract – halls of museums, buildings, or hotels. Its transgressive and provocative personality is accentuated by the golden faux leather upholstery with which it is presented, and that is a continuation of the subtle and elegant gold structure that defines its sinuous lines. The polyurethane foam padding is made up of tubular modules that make the seat and backrest a single soft and sparkling volume. Essential geometric shapes, as well as round and enveloping lines, define the design of a seat with an ironic and revolutionary mood.
