

linea maria gabriella zecca

Subtracting, removing, until a perfect synthesis of parallel lines is reached, breaking up to create a three-dimensional feel. This is the process that led to Linea rug, in three versions, each created by combining two colours: the contemporary minimal look of black and white wool, the softness of champagne pink combined with khaki green, and the eclectic version with petrol blue silk, which changes hue with the changing light, combined with burgundy red.
